DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "intermediate portion" as claimed in claims 40 and 45 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered. It is unclear what the intermediate portion is being offset from.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 35-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's admitted prior art in view of Oliver (2031384) and Harmala et al (5320386). Applicant admits that the use of a hollow metal handle made of aluminum or titanium is well known in the art (paragraph 3 of specification) however it fails to disclose the use of inner shafts to strengthen the handle. Oliver discloses the use of hollow metal tubes in handles is old in the art (fig 2, 1:47-50). Harmala et al discloses using reinforcing inserts to strengthen the handle (4:31-52). At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to have utilized the reinforcement means shown in Oliver and Harmala et al with the lacrosse handle in order to increase the structural strength of the handle to prevent damage to the handle caused by normal impact from playing the game. Because the Applicant has not disclosed that forming the handle in a polygon shape or having two inserts, provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with either the handle taught by Harmala or the claimed polygon handle with two inserts because both handles perform the same function of providing means to hold and use the lacrosse head. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to utilize any one of several equivalent handle cross sections based on cost and design considerations.

As to claims 36 and 37: Applicant admits that the use of a hollow metal handle made of aluminum or titanium is well known in the art (paragraph 3 of specification) .

As to claim 38 : Harmala discloses using a uniform wall thickness (fig 2).

As to claim 39 : Harmala discloses using a variety of materials (4:37-41).

Because the Applicant has not disclosed that using fiberglass as an insert, provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to utilize any one of several equivalent handle cross sections based on cost and design considerations.

As to claims 40 and 45: See claim 35 rejection.

As to claims 41 and 46: See claim 36 rejection.

As to claims 42 and 47: See claim 37 rejection.

As to claim 43: See claim 38 rejection.

As to claims 44 and 48: See claim 39 rejection.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-34 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
